

Reading Spine

Rationale

We believe in a well planned curriculum which fulfils the requirements of the National Curriculum, through exposure to a wide range of quality texts. We have collaboratively planned the journey of rich texts from Reception until their transition to middle school. Our aim is to expose children to literature that is diverse, high quality and progressively more complex through children's learning journey. Exposing pupils to the wide range of literature increases opportunity for all children to be inspired by different genres and authors that in turn promotes the love of reading.
